daring and skill have surprised and startled the universe, are to be our guests. A welcome should not be limited to the citizens of Greater New-Tork, but should include the citizens of the entire commonwealth and of every adjoining State, so that the spectacle to be presented on Saturday, and the greeting extended, should surpass any previous effort ever witnessed in this country.

That every citizen may take part in the festivities of the day, it is earnestly urged that all business be suspended on Saturday next; that all public buildings and private residences in the five boroughs of the city and every vessel in the harbor should be appropriately decorated with flags and bunting.

If each citizen will do his part to make this celebration worthy of the city and the occasion, it will demonstrate to the world the full measure of American grafitude and admiration for our herole desireders, who willingly risked their lives for the safety and honor of the flag.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal of office this eighteenth day of August, A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-eight.

ROBERT A. VAN WYCK, Mayor.

The city of New-York will officially welcome the home-coming of the victorious American fleet, which is due in New-York Harbor on Saturday, August 29. MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE.

Nearly two hundred members of the General Committee appointed by the Mayor met at noon in the Chamber of the Board of Aldermen, in the City Hall. Mayor Van Wyck called the meeting to order, and made a brief speech, which was applauded at intervals by the committee. The Mayor said:

The Mayor said:

When it was ascertained that these heroes of war were about to return to American waters, the city government felt it was not only its duty but also its pleasure to call this committee together for the purpose of making the necessary arrangements to let the civilized world know that in our veins flowed the blood, the same blood that caused the hearts of these patriots, these conquering heroes, to beat when they faced death itself. Applause.) The time was so short that we thought there was no opportunity fittingly to show our esteem of our naval heroes, but we concluded that no time was too short for us to do our duty. (Applause.) The Mayor is delighted to see this jarge assembling here that so promptly responded to the call to lend its aid in giving welcome to these people and to render homage to these conquering heroes, who shall never be forgotten. It is the hope of the citizens of New-York that we will be able to extend to them a welcome that they will never forget, and that it will be impressed upon the civilized world that those who did not go to the front are willing to yield the palm of honor to those who were in the war. We want to give them such a welcome as will linger in their memory forever. (Applause.) To them and to them only is homage due. We who remained in the rear, performing our ordinary duties, official and private, must not be slow to recentize the bravery of these heroes, not alone on this occasion, but always, not only in this land, but where they may go over the world. (Applause.) Now, gentlemen, it is your duty to nominate a chairman of this committee.

General Butterfield moved that the Mayor be empowered to add to the list of the Committee of Seventy-five, if necessary, but the Mayor cut him short, saying: "That is urnecessary. The Mayor would assume that responsibility, anyhow." Later the Mayor added the names of Edward Lauterbach, Jacob Hess and a few others to the committee. THE MAYOR DECLINES TO BE THANKED.

General Collis wanted the committee to vote its thanks to the Mayor for his prompt action, but the Mayor said, with a show of impatience: "No such motion is necessary. The Mayor always does with energy and promptitude whatever he thinks ought to be done."

As soon as the general committee adjourned the Committee of Seventy-five went over to the chamber of the Council, on the same floor of the City Hall, and organized. General Butterfield was elected chairman, and Maurice F. Holahan was elected secretary. Sub-committees to make inquiries in several directions were appointed at the outset. Thomas L. Feitner was made chairman of a committee of seven to aid the Mayor in receiving invited guests of the city. It was decided to appoint a committee of ten to make out a plan of arrangements and present it at the meeting of the Committee of Seventy-five this morning, and power was given to the smaller committee to go ahead with details which might need arranging in the mean time. The chairman appointed as the smaller committee Randolph Guggenheimer, William A. McAdoo, Louis Fitzgerald, C. H. T. Collis, Thomas F. Gilroy, J. Sergeant Cram, Andrew McLean, George C. Every available excursion boat, tug and towboat has been chartered for the naval parade on Saturday, and there will be a great rush of boats Among the mess will devote one of their heats to this purpose is the Fall River Line. Its steamer City of Lawrence will leave Pier No. 18, North River, at 10 o'clock and proceed to Tompkinsville to meet the warships, and then go up the North River. The sale of tickets on this boat will be limited. The rush lines have received applications in the same proportion."

The applications for boats to the different lines have come from all parts of the country.

A notice was posted on the Maritime Exchange vesterday requesting that all vessels in the harbor be decorated in honor of the fleet. Owners and agents of vessels now here promised to observe this request, and at once proceeded to arrange for the proper decoration of the vessels. The result will be that every ship here will be dressed in its holiday attire, and a pleasant rivalry has already developed among the captains in command of the various vessels as to who will be able to display the greatest amount of bunting.

PREPARING TO ACCOMMODATE VISITORS. To-morrow's naval celebration will naturally bring a large influx to this city of visitors anxious to see the famous battle-ships which swept Cervera's formidable aquadron from the was. Hotelowners and people generally whose business it is to dispense hospitality for pecuniary consideration are anticipating unusual demands upon the resources of their establishments, inquiries made at some of the more prominent hotels yesterday elicited the information that airrangements are being made to entertain as many visitors as their places will accommodate. At several of the large hotels many of the principal reception and other rooms are closed at this season of the year, but they are being prepared for immediate use to meet the necessities which will undoubtedly arise. The railroad companies are also actively exerting themselves so as to be in readiness to provide transportation facilities for the thousands of visitors who will come from the country to add their plaudits to the enthusiasm of their city cousing. Because of the short notice of the celebration, the railroad companies have been unable to announce special services of trains, but the officials of the various roads will be prepared to run extra trains should the traffic call for them. to see the famous battle-ships which swept Cer-

WORKINGMEN WILL HAVE A CHANCE. To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: The welcome to our great fleet on Saturday is to take place in the morning. Why not give the workingman an opportunity to show his love for his country and our great mival fighters by helping to give the sallors a great reception? Now, carnot you, through The Tribune, try to have the hour changed to 2 p. m. so as to give us workingmen, who have a half-holiday on Saturday, a chance to help to receive our beroes, who were willing to give up their lives to preserve the honor of the flag and country? Mr. Editor, do you not think we should have a chance to be there as Americans?

No. 234 South Third-st., Brooklyn, Aug. 18, 1838.

[The parade is not scheduled to start until 10 clock, and, as the fleet will proceed slowly, the review will probably extend into the afternoon, and workingmen will undoubtedly have an opportunity to see the ships at some point along the life.-Ed.]

UNUSUAL COMPLIMENT TO THE FLEET. Brigadier-General Gillespie, commanding the Department of the East, received orders yesterday from the Secretary of War, instructing him to direct that Forts Hancock, Wadsworth and Hamilton, in addition to the saluting station at Governor's Island, fire salutes for the fleet of Admirals Sampson and Schley upon its arrival here, or, at such time as the committee in charge of the arrangements of the reception should decide. This order is an unusual compliment to the fleet, as, ordinarily, all salutes are fited from Governor's

They will be taken to the New-Haven City Hospital to-morrow, and Colonel Forwood has asked how many the hospital will accommodate. The hospital authorities have informed him that they have room for one hundred patients, and if they will take that many, Colonel Forwood may send some of the other sick over to Connecticut.

There was one death from typhoid fever in the general hospital to-day. It was that of Sergeant Alfred M. Judson, jr., of the 1st United States Volunteer Cavalry (Rough Riders), who had been III for some time, and it is the first case of typhoid that has so far proved fatal in camp. NOT YELLOW FEVER, AS SUPPOSED.

The patients in the General Hospital to-day numbered 460, and there were 375 in the Detentien Hospital. No more yellow fever cases were reported from the latter, and Dr. Booth, a yellow fever expert on duty in the fever hospital, said the four cases that were diagnosed as yellow fever were not such. It was rather the troops stationed in Tampa and Cuba had already experienced. There are twenty-seven other cases that are being closely watched, however, for the surgeons do not know that any one of them may not develop into the disease they are looking for, but hope not to see.

Of the 71st boys, there are ninety-nine in the Detention Hospital and nineteen in the General Hospital. Those in the wards of the latter are getting along nicely. Some of them have already recovered to such a degree that they are up and walking about, and the others are gaining strength rapidly. It was said to-day that none of the 71st sick in the General Hespital were seriously ill. Those in the Detention Hospital are also getting along nicely, although

Dr. Ira C. Brown, the executive officer of the General Hospital, went about the wards to-day with a happy smile on his face. NO SUGGESTION OF A COURT TO EXAMINE INTO THE LACK OF SUPPLIES IN CUBA.

Washington, Aug. 18.-In reference to a report that Surgeon-General Sternberg had asked the Secretary of War for a court of Inquiry, he states that on August 4, in a letter to the Secretary of War, the Surgeon-General made a full explanation with reference to the deficiency in medical sup plies at Santiago, showing that ample supplies had piles at Santiego, showing that ample supplies had been sent with the troops from Tampa, but owing to difficulties connected with the landing at Shohey a considerable proportion of the supplies had been left on the transports. In the same letter the Surgeon-General requested that if this statement was not considered satisfactory a court of inquiry should be appointed to ascertain if there is any responsibility on his part or that of the officers to whom the orders for supplies had been sent. There is no suggestion that a court is to be ordered.

The sergeant returned to the city, and on visiting the camp attempted to quiet the men, but they would not be pacified and made threats against him for taking the prisoner away. Colonel Gunder tried to bring the soldlers to reason and begged them to be quiet, but they would not listen to him. It is feared to-night that an outbreak may occur at any time.

It seems that the trouble grew out of the saloon-keeper refusing to serve beer to the soldlers, who resented this, and Hall started to go for a provest guard. Aultmire said semething to the negro, and the latter shot the soldler. Andrew when shot was some distance away, and took no part in the disturbance. The prisoner's guilt is admitted, and he will be hanged times the soldlers take him from fail, as they threaten to do. The city to-night is patrolled by a large provest guard.

REPORTS FROM NEW-ORLEANS SHOW THAT MANY SOLDIERS ARE UNFIT FOR DUTY.

One of the reports received here is to the effect that a single regiment has about one hundred and fifty sick, including thirty cases of malarial fever, and that the sick list includes the colonel, lieutenant-colonel, major and adjutant of the regiment. TEXAS IMMUNES RETURNING HOME.

New-Orleans, Aug. 18.- Colonel Riche's regiment of immunes, which was largely recruited in Texas and which has been camped in this city for some time, left the city this afternoon over the Southern Pacific road for Galveston, where the command was recently ordered. The command started in poor spirits, because of the reports from Washingon that it is likely to be disbanded, instead of edg sent to Santingo, which had some time ago been named as its destination. The officers of the command are auxious for a court of inquiry to settle definitely the truth of the charges made of the conduct of the Texans here and of the poor discipline they have shown.

Fernandina, Fin., Aug. 18 (Special).—The second visit of the hospital train to this camp occurred to-day, to the great relief of the overtaxed surgeons here. Notice had been received that the train would have accommodations for one hundred sick, consequently that number of the most

Some of the latter are from the New-York Regiment.

While Major Hendley thinks this an ideal camp he believes that a portion of the sickness is caused by clearing large areas of land, and he states that, if possible, the Huntsville camp should be on an old plantation. There are to-day 573 cases of various aliments in the hospituis. Saturday there were 125 measles cases: to-day there are only twenty-five, owing to complete isolation and caterial attention.

General Kline is still on the sick list, but his case is not at all serious. It is rumored to-night that the 32d Michigan Resiment, commanded by Colonal McGurrin, has been transferred from the Pourth Army Corps to the Seventh Corps, commanded by General Lee. The report comes from an autoritative source.

NO COMPENSATION FOR CUBANA REPRESENTATIVES ADVISED BY THE GOV.

Washington, Aug. 18.-There have been conferences between T. Estrada Palma and other representatives of the Cubans with officials of the United States Government relative to the Cubans and what would be done with them. Mr. Palma was adviced that the United States would not consider the question of compense tion of the Cuban troops, because there was no was an inclination. He was told that the best thing the Cubans could do was to advise the men in arms to disband, retire to their homes

That the members of the Cuban Junta recognize that this is the only thing to do is seen in the fact that emissaries have a ready been emissaries will try to persuade the Cuban leaders that resistance to United States authority would result only in further distress to Cuba.
